

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF BUCKMAN BILL

To Be Attacked in the State Courts.

FIGHT NOW ON TO THE FINISH

Lake City People Mad Because State Board of Education Would Not Deny Entire Equipment of University. Refusal to Admit Student Ground.

The following appears in The Times-Union of 17th inst. under a Tallahassee date line:

"Judge Arch Henry of Lake City is here in consultation with Attorney-General Ellis. The citizens of Lake City, whom he represents, will probably institute legal proceedings to test the constitutionality of the Buckman bill.

"The refusal of the State Board of Education to convey the equipment of the University of Florida, as agreed at a meeting of the joint boards, July 24, is the cause of great dissatisfaction."

It has been understood by the people of Gainesville for some time that the Lake City people would contest the constitutionality of the Buckman Bill, their pretext for doing so being the refusal of President Bledsoe of the State University to admit a student who was not qualified under the provisions of the Buckman law.

The fight cannot commence too soon to suit the people of Gainesville, all of whom are anxious to have the question settled. The people of Lake City, that is the masses, are also equally anxious for a final settlement of the constitutionality of the law, and it is to be hoped that Judge Henry will no longer delay the instituting of legal proceedings in the matter, for no one at all acquainted with the situation ever doubted that it was the intention of certain Lake Cityites to do otherwise from the moment they were caught in the trap which they had set for Gainesville, Bartow, Tallahassee and DeFuniak.

Should the courts decide the law unconstitutional the various State schools remain as they were prior to the Buckman Bill, except that there would be no available funds with which to conduct them, and Governor Broward would face the alternative of depriving the children of Florida of the advantages of higher education for two years, or calling an extra session of the Legislature to make appropriation for operating the University and other State schools.

"Lay on MacDuff, and damned be he who first cried 'hold, enough.'"

GODFREY-NEWTON WEDDING.

Solemnized at Madison, Ga.—A Brilliant Event.

Alachua, October 17.—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Godfrey returned home on Monday from Madison, Ga., where on Thursday, October 12th, they were united in marriage. Mr. Godfrey is the popular cashier of the Bank of Alachua, a sterling young business man, and his many friends accord him and bride a hearty welcome. The Atlanta Journal of Tuesday contained the following account of the nuptials:

"The marriage of Miss Willie Ora Newton to Mr. Francis Bartow Godfrey was solemnized Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. LaPrade of Canton officiating.

"The entire first floor of 'Ivywood,' the beautiful country home of the bride, near Madison, was brilliantly lighted and decorated with bamboo, smilax and potted plants.

"In the front parlor a color scheme of white and green was observed. During the ceremony the bride and groom stood under an arch of white tulle and smilax from the center of which hung a globe made of white violets and roses.

"In the center of the dining room where a pink and white color scheme, was carried out, stood a heart-shaped table made beautiful by bunches of pink tulle and ribbon and lighted candles with pink shades.

"Promptly at 3:30 o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march, the bridal party came down the broad stairway. First came Miss Agnes Godfrey, sister of the groom, and Miss Elizabeth Walton; then Miss Lula Walker and Miss Lucia Goddard of Griffin; Miss Mamie Cooper of Atlanta, and Miss Caroline Callaway; Miss Sims of Newman, and Miss Sue Reid Walton; Miss Mary Walton Trammell and Miss Kitty Newton. These young ladies carried ropes of white tulle with which they formed an aisle from the foot of the steps to the altar. Next came the groom with his brother, Captain Erwin

WHAT IS THERE IN IT?

Scott's Emulsion is a careful blend of the purest cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda, glycerine and a dash of flavoring. Godfrey, and then the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Annie Lucy Newton.

"During the ceremony a selection from Nevin was played by Miss Williams.

"The bride wore a charming going-away gown of dark blue velvet, with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Annie Lucy Newton, sister of the bride, wore white crepe de chine and carried pink roses. The wedding gifts which were seen in the library were numerous and handsome.

"The bride is the eldest daughter of Hon. John T. Newton of Morgan county, and is very popular in Madison and throughout the State. The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. Molly Walton Godfrey, and is a young man of prominence in social and business circles. For some time he has been connected with a bank in Alachua, Fla., where the young people will make their home.

"Assisting Mrs. Newton in receiving and entertaining her guests were Mrs. Elsie Gushman, Mrs. W. P. Walker, Mrs. W. H. Burnett, Mrs. Porter Rogers, Miss Lucie Newton."

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Pensacola Shows Up More Hopeful. New Orleans Outlook Bright.

Carnegie Technical School Opens. Pittsburgh, Oct. 17.—Building "A" the first of the initial group of seven structures that form the new Carnegie Technical schools, was opened today with a class of 120 students selected from more than six hundred applicants from all parts of the world. The classes will be increased from time to time as the buildings are opened. Andrew Carnegie, the founder, who is in Scotland, was cabled today on the successful opening.

Church Blown Up by Gas.

Pittsburg, Oct. 17.—The First Presbyterian church at McKees Rocks, a West End suburb, was blown up by natural gas about noon today and the entire building was damaged. The explosion is said to be the result of a leak in the basement of the building which was sought by the janitor with a lighted candle. The janitor was severely burned.

Medicine and Ceremonies.

The physicians of mediæval England, who were for the most part monks, friars or Jews, possessed a large assortment of remedies, some of them borrowed from the Byzantine physicians, others from the traditional practice of the people. Christian physicians, however, called religion to their aid. None of their remedies was administered without ceremonial. While the medicine was being compounded the patient would say twelve times over one of the psalms, beginning "Misereere mei, Deus," then several paternosters, "then drink the dose and wrap thyself up warm," or he would sing the psalm, "Salvum Me Fac, Deus," then drink the draft out of a church bell, the priest finishing the cure with prayer.

Dr. Creighton remarks that, as the maladies of the middle ages contained an unusual element of hysteria, the ceremonial may not have come amiss as an aid to the treatment. Physicians gained considerable fees by their practice, which the people appear to have grudgingly given. The satirical writers constantly accuse them of greed, but these charges were probably owing to the prevalence of the idea, not yet extinct, that as "medicine is from the Lord God," the leech was not entitled to a money payment.—London Spectator.

Don't be Imposed Upon.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Stables in Trees.

In the Bahama Islands there flourishes a tree the roots of which attain to enormous proportions, often reaching to a height of fifteen or twenty feet above the surface of the earth, spreading in all directions, underground as well, in order to obtain sustenance and give support to the trunk and branches. On the tree grow innumerable balls of silky cotton, presenting an almost fairylike appearance as they glisten in the sunlight. They are in great demand for stuffing pillows, being soft as down. The spaces formed by the roots are often quite as large as fair sized rooms, and if roofed over one tree would form a commodious dwelling place for a family. In fact, it would be infinitely superior to the average native hut. Holes could be cut in the roots to allow of internal communication. Up to the present, however, the natives have not utilized them as houses, though they are frequently in request as stables for horses.

Cures Chills and Fever.

G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says his daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till he used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it. 50c. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Hope of Runaways.

Our newspapers might be much better. They could easily be made more to the taste of the people of taste. But their unlovely crying of crime, disagreeable as it is, is an exceedingly important public duty, and in their faithfulness and veracious fortitude in keeping it up lies really the biggest part of our hope of a higher standard of honesty in public and private life. There is hope for any kind of sanity as long as it can be kept out of the papers.—Harper's Weekly.
